Duty to Take Reasonable Care

About this application

When you apply for life insurance, the Insurer conducts a process called underwriting. It's how the Insurer decides whether they can cover you, and if so, on what terms and at what cost.

The Insurer will ask questions they need to know the answers to. These will be about your personal circumstances, such as your health and medical history, occupation, income, lifestyle, pastimes, and current and past insurance. The information you give to the Insurer in response to their questions is vital to their decision.

The duty to take reasonable care

When applying for insurance, there is a legal duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the Insurer before the contract of insurance is entered into.

A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer which does not fairly reflect the truth.

This duty applies to a new contract of insurance and also applies when extending or making changes to existing insurance, and reinstating insurance.

If you do not meet your duty

If you do not meet your legal duty, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. There are different remedies that may be available to the Insurer. These are set out in the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth). These are intended to put the Insurer in the position they would have been in if the duty had been met.

Your cover could be avoided (treated as if it never existed), or its terms may be varied. This may also result in a claim being declined or a benefit being reduced.

Please note that there may be circumstances where the Insurer later investigates whether the information given to them was true. For example, the Insurer may do this when a claim is made.

Before the Insurer exercises any of these remedies, they will explain their reasons and what you can do if you disagree.

Guidance for answering their questions

You are responsible for the information provided to the Insurer. When answering their questions, please:

- Think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure of the meaning of any question, please ask us or the Insurer before you respond.
- Answer every question.
- Answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it.
- Review your application carefully before it is submitted. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, your adviser), please check every answer (and if necessary, make any corrections) before the application is submitted.

Changes before your cover starts

Before your cover starts, the Insurer may ask about any changes to your circumstances which the Insurer reasonably considers to be relevant in assessing your application that mean you would now answer their questions differently. As any changes might require further assessment or investigation, it could save time if you let us know about any changes when they happen.

If you need help

It's important that you understand this information and the questions the Insurer may ask. Ask us, the Insurer or a person you trust, such as your adviser for help if you have difficulty understanding the process of buying insurance or answering the Insurer's questions.

If you're having difficulty due to a disability, understanding English or for any other reason, we're here to help. If you want, you can have a support person you trust with you.

Notifying the Insurer

If, after the cover starts, you think you may not have met your duty, please contact the Insurer immediately and they'll let you know whether it has any impact on the cover.
